DHS Launches New Website

(Des Moines, Iowa) – The Iowa Department of Human Services has launched a new, user-friendly website at <http://dhs.iowa.gov>

The audience-focused website quickly drives users to comprehensive information on DHS programs, which serve nearly one million Iowans each year. The mobile-optimized website provides a better experience on tablets and smart phones.

“Iowans will find the new website focuses on their needs and rapidly gets them to the information they’re looking for,” said DHS Director Charles M. Palmer. “The website puts a spotlight on what’s new at DHS, and how the agency’s programs can best assist Iowans.”

The department awarded the contract for the new webpage to the Des Moines firm Webspec Design LLC <http://www.webspecdesign.com/>
